The nautical mile is the unit of distance used at sea and defined as [ one minute (1') of latitude ] . Because the earth is not a perfect sphere, the actual length of a nautical mile varies. It is longer at the poles and shorter at the equator but standardized to 1852m or 6076ft.

Basic Marine Navigation Tutorial - Nautical Navigation Charts

A nautical chart is a "road map" to the oceans and waterways where you take your boat. It holds the key to a vast amount of information that you need to steer a course to and from destinations in a safe manner. Without a nautical chart and knowing the various symbols and information, you may as well be driving blind.
